

Estate Sales & Household Transitions

Our Customers Speak . . .

A few words from one of our clients.

From Martin in Wrightsville Beach, NC: "The Next Chapter team made a difficult task so easy for us. We had decided to sell everything in our house near Wrightsville Beach as we prepared to tear it down and build a new permanent residence for us. Being that we live several hours away from the house, we needed a turn-key service that would handle everything for us. We knew the difficult part was selling actual pieces of the house, from windows and doors to even bushes in the yard.

Ed and his team at Next Chapter worked tirelessly before, during and after the sale to make sure our goals were achieved. They stayed in touch throughout the process to be sure we were happy with the process. Their can-do attitude made the sale a positive experience for everyone involved, especially the customers who shopped the sale. We look forward to working with Next Chapter again soon.
